(29 EWING STREET,

A wise sociologist once said you can assess the level of civility in a society by how well people treat their animals. With perhaps one of the greatest concentrations of dogs and cats in the world, Bermuda has more than a few citizens committed to the well-being of our canine and feline friends. The twenty-first century is certainly the age of pet pampering, and there is no one more dedicated than June Harris at the Groom Room. Having groomed pets for 20 years (10 years in Bermuda), Harris says she loves what she does. She thanks her family, in particular her mother and younger brother, for their support when she decided to study pet grooming at the Balfour School of Dog Grooming. "They were the people that believed in me going to dog-grooming school," she says. Harris will pick up and deliver your precious pooch or fancy feline. She offers a full range of grooming services including bathing, flea dips, nail clipping, brushing and overall grooming. Happy pets return to their owners with a festive ribbon and the tag line "We're itching to see you"; the ribbon colour varies depending on the season—at Cup Match you can choose your favourite team's colours. Harris adds, "I would also like to thank my pet family for standing beside me through thick and thin."
